Foreword

A Tribute to Progress

The path that offers one and all
Its narrow, winding way,
Its highest mountain on which to climb,
A promise for a richer, better day.

To us this path has given
New found power on land and air,
Comfort for the weak and sick,
A kind of life that's just and fair.

In a world of bombs and rockets
It gives a chance that will never cease,
A chance to shake with him across the sea,
A chance for love and peace.

Give me your hungry and your aged,
Yours who are poor and in distress;
I will give them help and hope:
I, the Path of Progress.

The meaning of progress is one that cannot be summed up in a few words. But the annual staff has made progress its theme for the 1962 Hualapai to show what it can mean.

We cannot thank any individual for the new and better life that progress has given us. The whole world is to be thanked for this progress along the path to happiness and success.

Dedication

To a man of character and devotion
Who, throughout the many years,
Has taught us healthy notions
And good sportsmanship ideas,

To a man who is respected and admired
For his work on the athletic field,
A man who molds the leaders of tomorrow,
A job well done his only yield,

To a man who has helped many a class,
And this year the class of '62,
To realize our hopes and ambitions,
In whatever we may do,

For a man who gives his all;
We have tried to make this book,
We hope that it is worthy
To be dedicated to Coach Cook.

Each year the American Legion and the Auxiliary, aided by other local organizations, send outstanding high school juniors to Girls' and Boys' State. Two girls and three boys are selected by members of the faculty on the basis of character, leadership, and service.

After achieving this high honor, every participant undergoes one week of intensive training in citizenship and government.

Girls' and Boys' State is designed to teach the duties, privileges, rights, and responsibilities of American citizenship; and to arouse in each a love for the American form of democracy.
